

PATRICK'S MAGIC FIELD

Evoplay's new release, Patrick's Magic Field, is an Irish-themed instant game that features a mischievous leprechaun named Evelina, who is ready to unleash nasty tricks on those who dare to trespass on Rainbow Hill.

On each St. Patrick's Day, this misbehaving creature hides heaps of gold underneath lucky four-leafed clovers and prepares dangerous bombs for anyone seeking her treasure to stumble over.

Players who encounter Evelina will need some luck to avoid the tucked away explosives as they navigate Rainbow Hill in search of hidden riches.

RISK

Depending on the number of bombs on the playing field, the risk level in the game will change. The more bombs there are on the field, the greater the chance of losing, but the higher the multiplier is for each open cell.

A player can choose the level of the risk themselves by increasing or decreasing the number of bombs on the field.
